INTELLIGENCE DIVISION
CITYWIDE DEBRIEFING UNIT / ANALYSIS UNIT

December 19, 2006

The Subject: Nationality Trends Working Group

The Mission:

1. To produce analytical products that specify the process by which individuals belonging to a specific nationality move to NYC and attempt to blend into general society. The products should answer the question "If an individual from _____ were to come to New York City and wished to remain "under the radar," how, specifically, would he go about doing that.)
2. The analytic products will be organized by nationality and will not represent compilations of data. Rather, each product will tell a coherent story about how, on average, an individual from a specific country would take concrete actions to become "Americanized."

The Method:

1. The Citywide Debriefing Team ("CDT") will identify 25 individuals of the same nationality and conduct debriefings, as described below.
2. The CDT will generate DD5s detailing the answers to the questions listed below. The Intelligence Analysis Unit ("IAU") will harvest the intelligence contained in the pertinent DD5s and will incorporate that intelligence in a nationality-specific report.
3. As appropriate, analysts from the IAU will participate in selected debriefings to further their ability to form sound analytic judgments.

The Result:

1. Nationality-specific reports will be generated by the IAU.
2. Once the first report is approved, it will be used as a template for the next.

The Debriefing:

- If your cousin/friend from _____ wanted to come to the USA (NYC) and to keep a low profile, what would you suggest to him?
- Debriefing detective to explain to the individual being debriefed that there is no assumption that the debriefed individual would himself take these actions, only that he might be aware of how others might go about the process of blending in.
- The purpose is to ask questions that do not lend themselves to simple yes/no answers.

Debriefing Questions:

- 1) How would you suggest your friend/cousin come to the United States (routes/airlines etc.)?
 - What travel agencies?
- 2) How would you suggest he get to NYC?
- 3) Would he stay in NYC or NJ. Where would you suggest he stays in the first three nights here? Subsequent nights?
 - What neighborhood?
 - What SROs?
- 4) What job would he get to fly below the radar of law enforcement and generally keep a low profile, and who would refer them?
- 5) Who could help him in the community?
- 6) Where might he turn to obtain fraudulent ID?
- 7) What religious institution might he attend?
- 8) Where would he work out, i.e., gym, karate, boxing?
- 9) What language school might he attend to learn English or any other language?
- 10) What clubs, pool halls, cafes, or bars might he frequent?
- 11) Where would he get his hair cut?
- 12) What cafes would he visit?
- 13) What would you tell him to look out for?

Visa Types

Many of the individuals who were interviewed thus far have stated that they have won the Visa Lottery in Morocco.

- Visa Lottery - 10 total
 - The annual Diversity Visa program makes permanent residence visas available to persons meeting the simple, but strict, eligibility requirements. The visas are distributed among six geographic regions with a greater number of visas going to regions with lower rates of immigration, and with no visas going to citizens of countries sending more than 50,000 immigrants to the U.S. in the past five years. Within each region, no one country may receive more than seven percent of the available Diversity Visas in any one year (3,500).

- To qualify for a visa under this program, an applicant from Morocco must have a Baccalaureate certificate or two years of work experience within the past five years in an occupation designated "Job Zone 4" or higher at the U.S. Department of Labor's O*Net OnLine database, which is used to determine qualifying work experience. Generally these are professions which entail a high degree of managerial responsibility.
- In recent years there have been a significant number of Moroccan lottery winners lacking these qualifications who have applied for the DV Lottery. Unfortunately, they have apparently overlooked the information provided by KCC at each step in the process about the educational and professional criteria that must be met to qualify for a DV Lottery.
- Tourist visa – 8 total
- Student visa – 5 total
 - Individuals who come to this country on Student Visas MUST attend the school which is mentioned on the Visa. There have been individuals who have entered the country on Student Visas and have decided to drop out of school, or change schools, both of these are not in accordance with the Student Visa regulations.
