

OH, THAT'S WHY MCCAIN CAN'T KEEP SHIITE AND SUNNI STRAIGHT

Because he's "dizzy."

Also revealed: He has occasional momentary episodes of dizziness, when he gets up suddenly. McCain first told a doctor about them in 2000 – a visit that also uncovered the melanoma – and intense testing concluded they were harmless vertigo. He didn't report any episodes at his most recent exam.

So I guess in the McCain family, not only is John not the breadwinner of the family, but in spite of the fact that he has a beautiful blonde wife, he's the dizzy one.
