

MORE ON THE MAX TAX

A bunch of outlets have now released Bad Max's framework on health care.

Here are some ways to think of Max Tax:

Maximum amount a family of four making $67,000 would have to pay for health care, per year:
$20,610 (31% of income)

Total amount that family of four would pay in fine if they did not get health care insurance:
$3,800

Total amount a corporation with more than 50 employees would pay in fine if it did not offer health insurance: $400 per employee

Total amount a corporation can pay for health care plans without paying 35% tax: $8000 individual, $21,000 family
