

THE WITNESS LIST FOR THE MICHAEL SUSSMANN TRIAL

According to the transcript for the pre-trial hearing yesterday, here is the status of the witness lists. The most interesting one, to me, is Michael Horowitz, who presumably will testify that Rodney Joffe shared a worthwhile tip on the same terms that Sussmann attempted to do with James Baker.

Prosecution:

- Trisha Anderson: Yes, for 30 minutes
- Apple custodian: stipulation
- Manos Antonakakis: "Possibly yes" for less than an hour of testimony
- James Baker: Yes, for several hours
- Special Agent Batty: Unclear
- Mr. Chadason: Under a half hour
- David Dagon: Likely no (possibly on rebuttal)
- Mr. DeJong (who pulled data for Joffe): Probably yes, for half hour
- Marc Elias: Possibly yes, for 45 minutes
- Robby Mook: Yes, for 30 to 45 minutes
- Special Agent Gaynor (on the course of the investigation): Yes, 30 to 45 minutes

- Mr. Grasso (Special Agent whom Joffe provided a piece of the Alfa Bank allegations to): Yes, a half hour
- Special Agent Heide (one of the case agents on the investigation): Yes, a couple of hours
- Special Agent Hellman (who first analyzed the allegations): About half an hour
- Agent Martin (expert): Under half an hour
- Steven M: Unlikely to call in case in chief
- Mr. Novick (CEO of one of Joffe's companies): 45 minutes to an hour
- Kevin P (CIA meeting): 30 minutes
- Bill Prestap: 30 minutes
- Ms. Sands (one of case agents): a couple of hours
- Special Agent Schaaf: Unlikely on case in chief
- Laura Seago: Perhaps an hour
- Mr. McMahon (former DNC employe, had lunch immediately before Sussmann's meeting with Baker): under 15 minutes
- Perkins Coie billing department
- Debbie Fine (Clinton lawyer who participated in daily Fusion GPS meetings): An hour or less

- Not looking to put one of their own agents on the stand

Defense (may change in light of Prosecution decisions):

- Steven M: May call
- Marc Elias
- Ben Gessford (LYNC messages involving Clinton hacks): 30 minutes
- Marc Giardina (who wanted to open investigation in response to Slate article)
- Tasha Gauhar: Under 30 minutes
- Not Shawn Henry
- Michael Horowitz: Referrals to law enforcement
- Eric Lichtblau: An hour or so (concern about limits of privilege)
- Mary McCord
- Jonathan Moffa (as to Sussmann's credibility)
- Scott Schools (possible stip): 15 minutes
- Character witnesses

Update: I had accidentally left Priestap out.

Update: I also accidentally left out McCord and Moffa.
