

LINDSEY HALLIGAN CAN'T TELL THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A MAN, A WOMAN, AND A HAM SANDWICH

Oh hey!

If it's Thursday, it must be get no-billed by the Letitia James grand jury again!

Virtually every outlet (Politico, NYT, WaPo, AP, CNN) reports that DOJ tried again to indict New York's Attorney General, once again getting no-billed by the grand jury. Maybe, just maybe, there's not probable cause that Attorney General James did what frothers claim she did?

The day was not entirely a loss for Lindsey the Insurance Lawyer Masquerading as a US Attorney, though.

She almost managed to comply with Judge Colleen Kollar-Kotelly's order yesterday to comply with Judge KK's earlier order from last Saturday.

Before Judge KK's deadline of 10 AM, Lindsey the Insurance Lawyer Masquerading as a US Attorney filed something called, "NOTICE of Appearance by Lindsey Halligan on behalf of UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (Halligan, Lindsey) (Entered: 12/11/2025)," dated Monday, which looks like this:

Daniel Richman) Plaintiff)
v.)	Case No. 25-0170(CKK)
United States of America) Defendant)

APPEARANCE OF COUNSEL

To: The clerk of court and all parties of record

I am authorized to practice in this court, and I appear in this case as counsel for:

the United States of America _____.

Date: 12/08/2025

/s/ Robert K. McBride

Attorney's signature

Robert K. McBride, Kentucky Bar No. 84702

Printed name and bar number

The metadata shows that Fay Brundage created the

Title: _NOA Halligan.pdf
Author: Brundage, Fay (USAVAE)
Subject: -
Keywords: -
Created: 12/8/25, 4:42:38 PM
Modified: 12/11/25, 2:32:46 PM
Application: -

APPEARANCE OF COUNSEL

the United States of America

/s/ Lindsey Halligan

Attorney's signature

Lindsey Halligan, FL Bar No. 109481

Hours and hours after Judge KK's deadline, Lindsey the Insurance Lawyer Masquerading as a US Attorney filed something called, "NOTICE Certificate of Compliance by UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (Halligan, Lindsey)," meant to comply with this order from Judge KK.

The United States and its agent, the Attorney General of the United States, are ORDERED to identify, segregate, and secure the image of Petitioner Richman's personal computer that was made in 2017, his Columbia University email accounts, and his iCloud account; any copies of those files; and any materials obtained, extracted, or derived from those files (collectively, “the covered materials”) that are currently in the possession of the United States.

The United States and its agents, including the Attorney General of the United States, are further ORDERED not to access the covered materials once they are identified, segregated, and secured, or to share, disseminate, or disclose the covered materials to any person, without first seeking and obtaining leave of this Court.

Here’s the language of the certificate of compliance, which is also dated December 8, which – hey! – is closer than Lindsey the Insurance Lawyer Masquerading as a US Attorney normally gets.

On December 6, 2025, the Court entered an Order [DE 10] stating that the government would “identify, segregate, and secure the image of Richman’s computer that was made in 2017, his Columbia University email accounts, and his iCloud account; any copies of those files; and any materials obtained, extracted, or derived from those files . . . currently in the possession of the United States.” The Court further ordered the government to not access, share, disseminate, or disclose these materials without further permission of the Court. Finally, the Court required the government to certify compliance with the Order by 12:00 p.m. ET on December 8, 2025.

The metadata shows that our good friend James Hayes – the guy in the thick of efforts to try to use material unlawfully accessed – is back, if only in spirit.

Title: -
Author: Hayes, James
Subject: -
Keywords: -
Created: 12/11/25, 12:54:26 AM

According to Carol Leonnig, Lindsey will be formally nominated to be US Attorney (which was already in the works). But Chuck Grassley pushed back on Trump's complaints about the confirmation process (though without mentioning blue slips specifically). Honestly, it would be a lot of fun to have a Lindsey the Insurance Lawyer confirmation hearing.

But she may be too busy studying up on the difference between a man, a woman, and a ham sandwich.