BORK TRIES TO FIRE ANOTHER PROSECUTOR

NADLER PUTS CHENEY IN HIS SIGHTS

ON THOSE LETTERS

My mother is in town, so I'll be visiting rather than writing. I'll start catching up to my blogging on Saturday. But I did want to make an initial comment on the letters written in favor of leniency for Scooter. Sidney Blumenthal has a superb column at Salon on the letters in general:

One after another, the letter writers declare that Libby's "character" is "inconsistent" with the jury's verdict.

JUNE 9, 2003: THE PRESIDENT GETS INVOLVED

On June 8, 2003, George Stephanopolous and Condi Rice had the following exchange:

S: But let me stop you right there, because many in the United States government knew before then that this...

R: George, somebody, somebody down may have known. But I will tell you that when this issue was raised with the intelligence community—because we actually do go through the process of asking the intelligence community, Can you say this?
