

RACE AND THE PUBLIC OPTION

Because journalists won't call out much of the teabagger and deather opposition to Obama's policies for what it is—racism—they get away with pretending that the public option is unpopular in places where it really isn't.