

MORE FUNNY BUSINESS WITH RECORD-KEEPING?

Holy Shit. Remember TALON and CIFA? Here's a description I wrote in April:

It was designed to gather intelligence on threats to defense installations in the United States—to try to collect information (in the TALON database) on threatening people scouting out domestic bases. But it ended up focusing on peace activists and the lefty blogosphere's own Jesus' General.