

TURKEY IN LIMERICK

Happy Thanksgiving!

OPEN THREAD: COUNTDOWN TO T-DAY

Many folks are preparing for Thanksgiving Day tomorrow if not traveling over the river and through the woods to grandmother's house. Share your prep work here including recipes. This is an open thread.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS FROM THE EMPTYWHEEL BLOG: A YEAR TO REMEMBER, A YEAR TO FORGET AND AN OPEN FORUM FOR COOKING, TRASH AND OTHER TALK

What a long strange trip 2021 has been. January 6 is still less than a year ago. Joe Biden's Presidency is only eleven months old. The DOJ and 1/6 Committee are working away nicely on an unprecedented case that is multitudes more complicated and difficult than most all seem to comprehend (although we have been warning of that here from the start). So, as we reach this tumultuous Christmas and New Years' season, amid the sudden (but quite predictable in spite of anything Biden and Harris say) emergence of Omicron, let's chill a bit and take stock of it all.

First off, and I used to do this yearly on or about Christmas Eve, a remembrance of our dearly departed friend and colleague, Mary. Mary Perdue was not just a colleague, but a friend to both me, Marcy and most all of our contributors here. Mary left us on Christmas Eve 2011. Our long time regulars know this story, but there are a lot of new people here that should know, because this is the epitome of who we are at Emptywheel and what we have done and stood for from our beginning. I used to copy and repost the entire in memoriam, but will just link today for brevity. If you are new here, check it out.

Okay, on to the food! Because Mrs. bmaz is Italian at root, we always have, like at Thanksgiving, ridiculously awesome homemade spaghetti, meatballs, sausage and sauce instead of the traditional turkey and fixings. We will again. As much as I hate pumpkin pie, our daughter simply loves it, so there will be that too. That will be Christmas Day though, for Christmas Eve, probably steak, or homemade pizza, in the Ooni pizza oven. So, what are all of you eating, from where, and how? Marcy taught me long ago to seek out local and fresh ingredients, whether meat, vegetables or other, and we try to do that. Holiday food is fun!

And, now, for a bit of Trash Talk. Last night the Titans beat the 49ers and all but clinched a playoff spot and division title. Niners are still alive, but a little wounded. The Saturday game of Colts at Cardinals has all kinds of playoff implications. Both would likely still make the playoffs, but the seeding is absolutely critical. The other Christmas Day game of Cleveland at Green Bay is kind of a throwaway, hard to see the banged up and sinking Brownies going the Pack a game at Lambeau. There are too many permutations after the Sunday slate is played to go through here, but ESPN has a nice synopsis.

There is so much more going on, and let's talk about it. In closing, I'd just like to say thank you for being part of this community, it means everything to all of us here. So, to all of you and yours, have the happiest of holidays and New Year.

This year's holiday music is "Don't Shoot Me Santa Claus" by the incomparable Killers. It is really a great tune. I do suggest you click on the full screen button to embiggen it.

And for Eureka, Scribe and all our Pennsylvania friends:

WHO DID MORE THIS YEAR TO HELP THEIR (OR ANYONE ELSE'S) COUNTRY?

While Donald and the Grifters were doing their worst this year in DC/Mar-a-Lago, and Boris and the Bunglers were doing the same in the UK, there were others doing other things that were absolutely spectacular.

THANKSGIVING DAY CHEER

Okay, the football gods did not smile on fans today. But, hey, there is a lot else to be thankful for. Especially here, thanks to all of you. And so we are thankful for all of you!

ALL COVID-19 IS LOCAL, BBQ EDITION

BBQ: In KC, it's how we recognize the Apocalypse, and it's also a beacon of hope.

LONG OVERDUE POLICIES THAT LOOK OBVIOUS IN THE AGE OF PANDEMIC

With the crisis of COVID, policies that long made sense but were considered too radical have become necessary.

RURAL COVID-19: THE TYSON FOOD CLUSTERS

Trump has named the CEO of Tyson Foods, Dean Banks, as one of the CEOs he's consulting with about reopening the economy. Between clusters in two different Tyson plants, however, six Tyson workers have died.

RIKERS AND ROOSEVELT: THE UNCONTROLLED HUMAN EXPERIMENT OCCURRING WITH ESSENTIAL WORKERS (AND THEIR WARDS)

Trump wants to reopen the economy. But it's clear from the limited data and anecdotal reporting from essential workplaces that basic things – starting with masks – still aren't in place to limit workplace exposure. And because these men and women haven't had the protective equipment or other workplace protections they need, many have needlessly died.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING: DELAYED CRANES AND

PIGS EDITION

I'm grateful for Michigan's bounty. Unless we start doing something about the climate emergency, it may not be there very long.
