

FIEGER UPDATE

The government appears to have changed its explanation of how it started an investigation into Geoffrey Fieger for about the fourth time—this time claiming that the investigation started simultaneously here in Detroit and also in the Noel Hillman-led Public Integrity section. It's curious how this story keeps changing, and how every hearing the government digs itself a deeper hole.