

WHAT THE STONE SEARCH WARRANTS SUGGEST ABOUT THE ONGOING INVESTIGATION INTO HIM

Given what a filing submitted yesterday in Roger Stone's case, it looks like prosecutors may have returned to a consideration of CFAA-related charges for Stone after the raids on his properties in January.

ON NINE DIFFERENT OCCASIONS, BILL BARR WAS UNABLE TO OFFER ANY EVIDENCE OF IRREGULARITY IN RUSSIA INVESTIGATION

In an otherwise supine interview with the Attorney General, CBS' Jan Crawford asked Bill Barr nine different times for evidence that there's some reason to investigate the Russian investigation. On nine different occasions, he was unable to answer her question.

TWO FACTORS THAT MAY CHANGE THE IMPEACHMENT CALCULUS, PART TWO: CRIMINALIZING A ROGER STONE PARDON

There's one really cynical reason why Democrats should embrace an impeachment inquiry. If Stone's trial goes forward in November, it would present as damning a case against Trump's cheating as any impeachment trial could do. But to ensure that happens, Democrats need to make it clear that pardoning his way out of this will incur even greater costs for the President.

TWO FACTORS THAT MAY CHANGE THE IMPEACHMENT CALCULUS, PART ONE: TO ENFORCE A GOP SUBPOENA COVERING A TRUMP LIE TO MUELLER

By pitching impeachment as a necessary response to Trump Organization blowing of a GOP-issued Congressional subpoena, it may provide a way for Republicans to decide to support impeachment down the road.

MIKE FLYNN DOESN'T WANT THE BRAZENNESS OF HIS LIES TO BECOME PUBLIC

The WaPo has graciously asked Emmet Sullivan to liberate Mike Flynn's unredacted 302. But Flynn is opposed to the motion.

THE GAME OF TELEPHONE THAT HAS ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAM BARR IN A LATHER

The George Papadopoulos hearing that serves as the excuse to demand an investigation into the FBI investigation into Trump is actually a demonstration of how crazed Republicans are.

THERE'S A DISCREPANCY ABOUT WHEN PAPADOPOULOS LEFT THE TRUMP CAMPAIGN

Mueller says that the Trump Campaign dismissed George Papadopoulos after he wrote a column trashing sanctions on Russia. Papadopoulos told Congress last fall that he never left.
