

PENETRATED: TODAY'S SENATE INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE HEARING ON RUSSIAN INTERFERENCE IN THE 2016 U.S. ELECTIONS

Nothing in today's Senate Intelligence Committee's hearing nor the House Intelligence Committee hearing changed the fact the U.S. election system was penetrated last year. We should be very concerned.

---

THE OUTDATED XP TESTIMONY ON WANNACRY TO CONGRESS

Why are witnesses to Congress suggesting that Windows' most outdated systems were the biggest victims of WannaCry?

---

THE SOURCES FOR SOME RUSSIAN VOTING HACK STORIES WILL NOT BE

PROSECUTED

Any bets that the sources for the (critically important) Bloomberg story on Russians hacking the voting infrastructure of 39 states won't even be investigated.

---

WHICH WAS A MORE SENSITIVE OPEN SECRET REVEALED AS A RESULT OF THE REALITY WINNER STORY: DETAILS ON RUSSIAN HACKS OF VOTING EQUIPMENT, OR INVISIBLE PRINTER DOTS?

I'm betting that the government is far more grumpy that the Reality Winner prosecution has alerted far more people to the invisible dots that can identify the printer from which a document gets printed than they are about the document Reality Winner leaked to The Intercept on Russian attempts to hack voting equipment companies.

---

WHO WOULD HAVE

TOLD TRUMP TO GO BACK TO DEMAND A PATRONAGE RELATIONSHIP WITH COMEY?

In his testimony, Jim Comey suggested someone may have told Trump to go make demands on Jim Comey the day after the White House first learned Mike Flynn was in trouble.

---

VLADIMIR PUTIN PLACES A BET IN THE CRYPTOCURRENCY SHADOW BROKERS ISN'T USING

Somehow Shadow Brokers keeps using all the cryptocurrencies that Vladimir Putin isn't banking on.

---

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DAY MAKES TO THE PRIVILEGES OF A KING

Trump lawyer Marc Kasowitz' rebuttal to Comey's testimony is, on its face, deeply flawed, especially with its attack on Comey for leaking privileged memos. But it's all the more problematic when you compare it to what Mike Rogers and Dan Coats did yesterday.

---

COMEY AND FRIENDS EXPECTED JEFF SESSIONS TO RECUSE BY FEBRUARY 14

It apparently took Jeff Sessions at least 16 days from the time FBI expected him to recuse before he did so. Did he talk to Trump about potential recusal in the interim?

---

LURKING JARED

Jim Comey describes Jared Kushner as making pleasantries before Trump first pressured Comey about Flynn.

---

IF WE HAVE TO HAVE FISA, CAN WE AT LEAST NOT GIVE IT TO CONTRACTORS?

If we had fewer contractors working in intelligence, we might have fewer leaks.