

“REASONABLE GROUNDS TO CONCLUDE”

It took a month longer for BushCo to invoke state secrets in the al-Haramain suit than they did in the ACLU suit. In the interim period, they appear to have redefined the program, so as to admit they didn't have proof that al-Haramain was “associated with al Qaeda.”