WHORM AND WAVES

Amid the excitement today, you may have missed the news that the White House visitor logs are public documents. I'm sure this will be in the Courts for another year and a half—at which point Dick will invite Scalia to go quail hunting again, and we'll never get the records. But for now, look at the oozing skepticism of Judge Royce Lamberth.