

DELAYING THE RETURN OF THE RULE OF LAW

It's clear that Republicans are determined to delay as long as possible both Eric Holder's nomination and turning over the OLC opinions authorizing illegal activities. It almost makes you think they're trying to delay the time when a neutral party can prevent their "get out of jail free" schemes, huh?