

MIKE ROGERS DOESN'T EXCULPATE TRUMP ON “COLLUSION” LIKE TRUMP ONCE THOUGHT

On Monday, Jim Jordan celebrated the release of a 302 from former National Security Agency Director Mike Rogers the redactions to which suggest Trump asked Rogers to lie about evidence of “collusion” with Russia. And on Tuesday, Tulsi purged the guy, Rick Ledgett, who testified he found Trump’s request disturbing.