

“THE 9/11 COMMISSION WANTS INTERNAL EMAILS”

I found something rather interesting in Scooter Libby's notes for July 8 (here's the transcription of his chickenscratch). At the tail end of a conversation about the 9/11 Commission (which may have taken place at the White House's Senior Staff Meeting that morning), and at the beginning of more obsessive notes about Joe Wilson, Libby wrote:

9/11 Commission wants internal e-mails, mark-up drafts of President's speech, materials for President's discussions with Blair,
