

DOUGIE FEITH'S LITTLE SHOP OF TORTURES?

I just happened to find Dougie Feith's responses to Questions for the Record the Senate Intelligence Committee asked him in 2003. They wanted to know how his little intelligence shop at DOD—the Policy Counter Terrorism Evaluation Group (PCTEG)—bridged the line between intelligence and policy.

He said his little intelligence shop helped formulate policy on: